

CHANCE[®]

LINEMAN GRADE GLOVES[™]

Reduce Hand Fatigue

From the name you trust and the brand you depend on, Chance Lineman Grade Gloves are available now.

Chance natural rubber insulating gloves are now available in six ASTM voltage classes and a full range of sizes. Manufactured for your ultimate protection and comfort, Chance Lineman Grade Gloves deliver the innovation and dependability you've been waiting for.

Ergonomic innovation. Superior products. And Timely Solutions.

Just a few of the reasons the industry turns to Hubbell Power Systems and the Chance brand.

Straight fingers with respect to the palm to help prevent fatigue of the tendons in the back of your hands

Flexible and durable natural-rubber formulation provides excellent flexibility and electrical insulation

ASTM label certifies that every glove has been manufactured and tested per ASTM D120

Oval shaped fingers to help provide "No-Dead-Spots" feel and better dexterity

Straight wrist in Natural-Rest Position to help prevent fatigue of your forearms and hands

Wide cuff for improved comfort and air-flow

NOTE: Because Hubbell has a policy of continuous product improvement, we reserve the right to change design and specifications without notice.
